

Here for our children's futures

At Alcoa, supporting the communities where we operate means helping shape brighter futures for the children growing up in them.

By creating thousands of local jobs, choosing local suppliers, and investing in initiatives that build strength, resilience and opportunity, we're proud to help build a better tomorrow.

That's why we're supporting Telethon. This includes through the Alcoa Cycle Challenge at the Telethon Family Festival next weekend, an event powered by teamwork, endurance and heart. Together, we're helping WA kids lead healthier, happier lives, today and tomorrow.
