

Community investment

At Alcoa, we are passionate about partnering with communities to help address local needs and aspirations. For this reason, we provide financial and in-kind support to a wide variety of environmental, educational, health, safety, and community capacity and resilience building initiatives.

We invest millions of dollars annually into the communities near where we operate to address local priorities and tackle local challenges.

We are proud to work alongside reputable non-profit and community organisations on large-scale through to grassroots initiatives. From helping the local environment to building a brighter future for our children, our partners deliver outcomes that enrich our host communities.

More than $5.2 million

was invested through our community investment program in 2023.

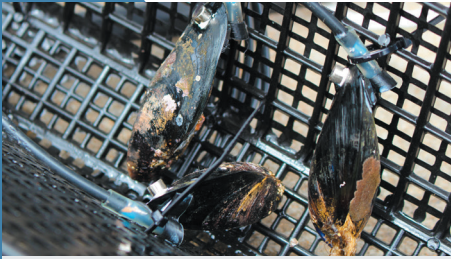

Find out more about a few of our flagship partnerships overleaf or visit our website by scanning this QR code.

Partnership spotlight

We are proud to partner with hundreds of organisations across the communities where we operate in Australia. Find out more about a few of our flagship partnerships in Western Australia below.

Harry Butler Institute, Murdoch University

Monitoring and restoration of key waterways in the Peel and Upper South West regions.

About $680,000 committed to date.

BirdLife Australia

Alcoa Community Black-Cockatoo Recovery Initiative — protecting threatened and endangered Black-Cockatoo species.

About $1.1 million committed to date.

Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions

Western Shield — bolstering a key native wildlife recovery program in the Northern Jarrah Forest.

About $1 million committed to date.

Waalitj Foundation

Indigenous business and employment — supporting capacity building programs across Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $850,000 committed to date.

Youth Focus

Mental health services — providing free counselling and education services across Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $2.2 million committed to date.

EdConnect

Connecting Generations for School Success — empowering volunteers to provide mentoring and learning support to at-risk students across Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $600,000 committed to date.

Earbus Foundation of WA

Alcoa Foundation Earbus Program — reducing the incidence of ear disease and hearing loss in Aboriginal and at-risk children in Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $780,000 committed to date.

Scitech

Alcoa Maths and Digital Technology Enrichment Programs — supporting STEM education across the Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $1.3 million committed to date.

Foodbank WA

Major partner of the Foodbank Peel Branch — helping tackle hunger and food insecurity across Kwinana, Peel and the Upper South West.

About $550,000 committed to date.